Purpose of policy

We are committed to protecting your personal information and being transparent about what information we hold about you.

Using personal information allows us to develop a better understanding of our customers and in turn to provide you with relevant and timely information about the work that we do.

The purpose of this policy is to give you a clear explanation about how we collect and use the information we collect from you directly and from third parties.

We use your information in accordance with all applicable laws concerning the protection of personal information. This policy explains:

- • What information we may collect about you
- • How we may use that information
- • In what situations we may disclose your details to third parties
- • Our use of cookies to improve your use of our website
- • Information about how we keep your personal information secure, how we maintain it and your rights to be able to access it

Who we are

James & Shane Parkin LLP we operate Movie Starr Cinema in Canvey Island. Our registered company number in England and Wales is [OC353122].

Information collection

We collect various types of information and in many ways:

Information you give us

For example, when you register on our website, buy tickets we'll store personal information you give us such as your name, email address, postal address, telephone number and card details. We will also store a record of your purchases.

Information about your interactions with us

For example, when you visit our website, we collect information about how you interact with our content.

Sensitive personal data

Data Protection law recognises that certain categories of personal information are more sensitive such as health information, race, religious beliefs and political opinions. We do not collect this type of information about our customers.

Legal basis

There are three bases under which we may process your data:

Contract purposes

When you make a purchase from us, you are entering into a contract with us. In order to perform this contract, we need to process and store your data. For example, we may need to contact you by email or telephone in the case of cancellation of a show, or in the case of problems with your payment.

Legitimate business interests

In certain situations, we collect and process your personal information for purposes that are in our legitimate organisational interests. However, we only do this if there is no overriding prejudice to you by using your personal information in this way. We describe below all situations where we may use this basis for processing.

With your explicit consent

For any situations where the two bases above are not appropriate, we will instead ask for your explicit consent before using your personal information in that specific situation.

Marketing communications

We aim to communicate with you about the work that we do in ways that you find relevant, timely and respectful. To do this we use data that we have stored about you, such as what events you have booked for in the past, as well as any preferences you may have told us about.

Other processing activities

In addition to marketing communications, we also process personal information in the following ways that are within our legitimate organisational interests:

- • We may analyse data we hold about you to ensure that the content and timing of communications that we send you are as relevant to you as possible.
- • We may analyse data we hold about you to identify and prevent fraud.
- • To improve our website, we may analyse information about how you use it and the content
- • We may use profiling techniques using publicly available data about you.

In all the above cases we will always keep your rights and interests at the forefront to ensure they are not overridden by your own interests or fundamental rights and freedoms. You have the right to object to any of this processing at any time. If you wish to do this, please use the contact details at the end of this policy. Please bear in mind that if you object this may affect our ability to carry out tasks above that are for your benefit.

Third parties

There are certain circumstances under which we may disclose your personal information to third parties. These are as follows:

- • To our own service providers who process data on our behalf and on our instructions (for example our ticketing system software provider). In these cases, we require that these third parties comply strictly with our instructions and with data protection laws, for example around security of personal data.

- Where we are under a duty to disclose your personal information to comply with any legal obligation (for example to government bodies and law enforcement agencies).

Cookies

Cookies are small text files that are automatically placed onto your device by some websites that you visit. They are widely used to allow a website to function (for example to keep track of your basket) as well to provide website operators with information on how the site is being used.

We use cookies to keep track of your basket as well as to identify how the website is being used and what improvements we can make.

Your debit and credit card information

If you use your credit or debit card to purchase from us, we will ensure that this is carried out securely and in accordance with the Payment Card Industry Data Security Standard (PCI- DSS). You can find more information about this standard.

We optionally allow you to store your card details for use in a future transaction. This is carried out in compliance with PCI-DSS and in a way where none of our staff members can see your full card number. We never store your 3 or 4-digit security code.

Maintaining your personal information

We store your personal information indefinitely such that for any subsequent purchases you make we can link them back to a single unique record that we hold for you on our system. If there are aspects of your record that are inaccurate or that you would like to remove, you please use the contact details at the end of this policy.

Any objections you make to any processing of your data will be stored against your record on our system so that we can comply with your requests.

Security of your personal information

We will put in place appropriate safeguards (both in terms of our procedures and the technology we use) to keep your personal information as secure as possible. We will ensure that any third parties we use for processing your personal information do the same.

We will not transfer, process or store your data anywhere that is outside of the European Economic Area.

Your rights to your personal information

You have a right to request a copy of the personal information that we hold about you and to have any inaccuracies in this data corrected.

A fee (£5 per named person request) is applicable for administration purposes only, we will inform you (in writing only, within 14 days) to the account listed address. Please note a request cannot be processed until payment is received.

The request will cover; personal data being processed, the reason/s it is being processed, and whether it will be given to any other organisations or people.

An individual can also request information about the reasoning behind any automated decisions.

We aim to comply with requests for access to personal data as quickly as possible. We will ensure that we deal with requests within 40 calendar days of receipt unless there is a reason for delay that is justifiable under The Data Protection Act 1998, General Data Protection Regulation 2018 (GDPR). However, some types of personal data are exempt from the right of subject access and so cannot be obtained by making a subject access request. For more information, please see ICO Exemptions www.ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/exemptions

Accessibility

If a disabled person finds it impossible or unreasonably difficult to make a subject access request in writing, we will make a reasonable adjustment for them under the Equality Act 2010. This could include treating a verbal request for information as though it were a valid subject access request. We will respond in a format which is accessible to the disabled person, such as Braille, large print, email or audio formats.

How to Access your Personal Information (Subject Access)

The Data Protection Act 1998, General Data Protection Regulation 2018 (GDPR), gives you the right to see the information that James & Shane Parkin LLP holds about you and why. Requests (sent by email, fax, social media is as valid as one sent in hard copy) must be made in writing (not verbally) and you will need to provide:

- • adequate information [for example full name, address, email address, phone number, customer ID, etc.] so that your identity can be verified and your information located.
- • copy of Photographic ID
- • an indication of what information you are requesting to enable us to locate this in an efficient manner.

Information for job applicants

James & Shane Parkin LLP will process information provided by applicants for the management of their application and the subsequent selection process. This involves providing details to the short-listing and selection panels. Other details are kept helping fulfil our obligations (legally and reporting to our funding bodies) to monitor equality and diversity within the organisation and in the application process. You can find more information about the use of personal data throughout the application process. Information will be retained on interview performance and the application in line with the retention periods set out.

For more information about your application and personal data we hold use the contact details below.

Security of your information

We take our duty to protect your personal information and confidentiality seriously. We are committed to taking all reasonable measures to ensure the confidentiality and security of personal data for which we are responsible, whether computerised or on paper.

We have appointed a Data Specialist within the company who is accountable for the management of all information assets and any associated risks and incidents.

All our staff are also required to protect your information, and inform you of how your information will be used. This includes, in most circumstances, allowing you to decide if and how your information can be shared. Everyone working for the James & Shane Parkin LLP is subject to the common-law duty of confidentiality. Information provided in confidence will only be used for the purposes advised and consented to by the service user, unless it is required or permitted by the law.

Contact details and further information

Please get in touch with us if you have any questions about any aspect of this Privacy Policy, and if you would like to object to any processing of your personal information that we carry out for our legitimate organisational interests.
